LAGCOE 2015 Welcomed More Than 16,400

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

October 29, 2015

LAFAYETTE, LA – Louisiana Gulf Coast Oil Exposition (LAGCOE) 2015 welcomed more than 16,400 from 46 countries and 49 states to the Cajundome & Convention Center in Lafayette, La., October 27 – 29. Attendees viewed 448 exhibits, eight technical presentations, seven international presentations, and five special events over the three day period.

Angela Cring, LAGCOE executive director, said, “We are very pleased with the number of attendees and exhibiting companies at LAGCOE 2015, given the state of the industry. It is evident that networking, innovation and preparing the next generation are critical components to our industry especially in lean times.”

Steve Maley, Operations Manager for Badger Oil Corporation and LAGCOE chairman, commented, “The show was great. I want to applaud our staff and the hundreds of volunteers for their hard work and dedication which make LAGCOE possible.”

LAGCOE was held October 27 – 29, 2015, at The Cajundome & Convention Center in Lafayette, La. In continuous operation since 1955, LAGCOE is a first rate oil and gas exposition where world class companies display the latest equipment and services and technical sessions address pertinent issues from across the globe. LAGCOE 2017 will be held October 24-26, 2017. Learn more at www.LAGCOE.com.
